*You are on our Diamond commission program. This means that at the end of every quarter, we will measure your 13 month projected persistency, and based on the result, set you to Tier 1 or Tier 2 commission levels (shown on page 1 of this schedule.) The persistency measurement is as follows: Once you've written 16 or more policies, you must maintain 68% 13 month project persistency or higher to stay at Tier 1 commissions for new business. Otherwise, you will drop to Tier 2 commissions provided your projected persistency is higher than 60%. If you've only written between 8 – 15 Policies, you must maintain 50% 13 month projected persistency to remain at Tier 1. Otherwise, you will be reduced to Tier 2. If you have written less than 8 policies, you will remain on Tier 1.

OPTIONAL COMMISSION ADVANCES. If elected and approved, the Company may advance commissions for the number of months below for each new insurance contract procured by the Insurance Producer. In addition, the Company will create a commission reserve account that will accumulate a portion of commissions at the percentage shown below for the purpose of offsetting commission chargebacks on policies with remaining unearned advance balances. A complete description of obligations, limitations, and terms related to Commission Advances can be found in the Commission Advance Addendum.

ADVANCE MONTHS

☐ No Advance ☐ 6 Months ☐ 9 Months

CHARGEBACKS. Unearned Commissions will be one hundred percent (100%) charged back to the Insurance Producer.

VESTING. If the Insurance Producer Agreement is terminated, net payable compensation to the Insurance Producer in the form of first year and renewal commission will be vested in accordance with the following schedule:

of Elapsed Months From Producer Contract Date	Vesting %

36 Months or More	100%

MINIMUM COMPENSATION. The minimum commission payment issued by the Company is $25.00. Amounts payable that are less than $25.00 will be accumulated and paid when the total is at least $100.00. After termination without cause, no further compensation will be paid if the total amount of compensation is less than $25.00 in any calendar year subsequent to the year in which the Insurance Producer Contract is terminated.

ACCEPTANCE. This schedule will apply to qualified applications dated on or after the Effective Date shown below. The Company has the unilateral right to amend this Schedule upon notification on the amendment and its effective date. At the Company's discretion, it may provide notice of such amendment through mail, email, posting to the Company website or such other reasonable means of communication. No such amendment shall affect commissions on applications taken prior to the effective date of such amendment unless required by law.
